

Getting started

To get started with makeup|SDK, get in touch with us by filling out our contact form. Your application will be carefully reviewed in order to provide you with the most relevant information. A dedicated sales representative will then contact you to discuss your business needs further, share a link to our download center, and provide a free evaluation license.

Your evaluation license lets you explore our technology further and discover how it can complement your specific use case. Our fully-documented API will give you a quick start in developing your applications using our technology.

Once you're ready to upgrade your license, let your sales representative know. They will send you the quote and provide you with the appropriate licenses.
